At Retention Reclaim we are here to help you get back the retention that is owed.

Recovering overdue retention funds can be incredibly frustrating and a laborious task for companies.

It is unfortunately the case that Main Contractors make the process of recovering historical and current retentions extremely difficult, in the hope that you will give up chasing it.

As a small company ourselves we understand your needs, requirements, and the utmost importance of cash flow, which is why our full dedicated team will apply the pressure during the recovery process.

At Retention Reclaim we are able to cut through the games played by some Main Contractors and our involvement alone brings about prompt payment.

Our hard working tenacious team are well versed in supporting companies and have excellent rate of recovery.

What's more, we offer this on a NO WIN, NO FEE basis.

All retention ledgers attract a small admin fee and thereafter our fees are based purely as a percentage recovered.
